

International Affairs and Public Policy

Understanding how political institutions, processes and public policies operate in world affairs is of increasing importance in the world today. The unique experience of living and studying in China will put you ahead in the job market.

WHY STUDY INTERNATIONAL AFFAIRS AND PUBLIC POLICY AT NANKAI UNIVERSITY?

- Study at one of the most prestigious schools in China. The Zhou Enlai School of Government is an elite centre for research and teaching in the fields of politics, political science, international political economy, international relations and Sino-Foreign diplomacy.
- The School is named after Zhou Enlai, one of China's most revered leaders of the 20th century.
- The programme is designed and delivered by top-class professors with international work and study experience.
- Make use of unique networking opportunities.
- Full access to world-class university facilities.
- Enhance your CV with a postgraduate degree gained outside your own country.

“International Affairs and Public Policy is the study of the interactions of states between each other and with international organisations and other non-state parties. I am excited to see a growing number of international students enrolling to one of the most prestigious schools of international relations in China.”

Dr. Zhaoying Han

Professor and Chair of International Relations, Nankai University

Postgraduate degree International Affairs and Public Policy (Master's)

This programme is designed to prepare graduates for a wide range of careers in the field of international relations.

WHAT WILL I STUDY?

- Acquire the academic and analytical skills necessary to understand the rapidly changing context in which international relations and foreign diplomacy are conducted.
- Develop strategic foresight and engage in constructive dialogue and mutual understanding.
- Learn to consider international issues and events from a global perspective.
- Chinese language classes integrated alongside your academic study throughout your programme.
- Masterclasses delivered by leading professionals will enhance your knowledge of real life scenarios.

SAMPLE MODULES

Compulsory modules:

Contemporary China Studies
Chinese Foreign Policy
Chinese Language
International Political Economy
The Evolution of World Politics

Elective modules:

China and Africa
China and The Global Economy
China - Europe Relations
China - US Relations
Globalisation and Global Governance
International Relations of Asia Pacific

CAREER OPPORTUNITIES

Graduates have a wide range of careers including: politics, business, law, non-profits, and linguistics.

Key facts

Start date

September 2018

Programme length

2 years

Programme fees

RMB 55,000 (US$8,234)

Academic requirement

Successful completion of an undergraduate degree or equivalent with good grades.

English language entry requirement

IELTS 6.0 or equivalent

Additional requirements

Applicants must also submit a personal statement outlining why they wish to study International Affairs and Public Policy and why they would be suitable for the programme.