

International Economics and Business

The globalisation of the world economy and the increase in competition among businesses has created a need for highly skilled economists able to work in complex business environments. Organisations are looking for employees with experience of China, whether it is through employment, language skills or academic studies.

WHY STUDY INTERNATIONAL ECONOMICS AND BUSINESS AT NANKAI UNIVERSITY?

- Established in 1931, the School of Economics is one of the oldest in China.
- The School of Economics is one of the most prestigious in the country
- The programme is designed and delivered by top-class professors with international work and study experience.
- Opportunities to gain real-life experience through internships in international and Chinese companies.
- Make use of unique networking opportunities.
- Full access to world-class university facilities.
- Enhance your CV with a postgraduate degree gained outside your own country.

“Dedicated faculty will ensure you receive a first-class education from a leading university in China. Our postgraduate programmes enable students to graduate with the knowledge and skills needed for successful careers in international organisations.”

Sheng Bin

Dean of School of Economics, Nankai University

Postgraduate degree International Economics and Business (Master's)

The programme is delivered by top-class professors with international work and study experience and incorporates international business perspectives, while focusing on the growing Chinese economy.

WHAT WILL I STUDY?

- Incorporate international business perspectives, with specific focus on the growing Chinese economy.
- Study using current business research findings and global case studies.
- Chinese language classes integrated alongside your academic study throughout your programme.
- Masterclasses delivered by leading professionals will enhance your knowledge of real-life scenarios.

SAMPLE MODULES

Compulsory modules:

Company Case Study
International Business
International Economics
Intermediate Macroeconomics
Intermediate Microeconomics
Panorama of Contemporary China

Elective modules:

China's Foreign Trade
Chinese Language
International Financial Markets
International Marketing
Topics of China's Economic Growth
Transnational investment and Management

Key facts

Start date

September 2018

Programme length

2 years

Programme fees

RMB 65,000 per year (US$9,730)

Academic requirement

Successful completion of an undergraduate degree or equivalent with good grades. Applicants with no economics-related background may be required to undertake an admission interview.

English language entry requirement

IELTS 6.0 or equivalent

CAREER OPPORTUNITIES

Graduates have a wide range of careers including: finance, management consultancy, politics, international business and project management.